The No-Fault Complaint

The battle-piece is No-Fault Insurance.

Not many people understand No-Fault Insurance. Not many people even understand the benefits, limitations and exclusions of their own existing insurance policies.

The California Trial Lawyers Association understands No-Fault. Herbert Hafif, the group's president says CTLA supports No-Fault but actually the CTLA battles against it in its present form.

Hafif, an intelligent, articulate attorney from Claremont, says that No-Fault is nothing more than enforced wage and medical insurance. It will cost more because it will cover 80% more people. The additional ones being those not at fault. Since insurance rates are based on claims that must be paid, it normally follows that the cost will rise, he says.

In Delaware and Massachusetts No-Fault has brought a reduction in rates. About 15%. But Hafif believes circumstances will create a drastically increased rate in the coming few years.

He said that insurance firms, anticipating No-Fault, have stockpiled reserves instead of reducing rates. One firm, he noted, increased reserves from $6 million to $50 million. Much of this is used when No-Fault is legislated. He sees a 12% reduction in rates when No-Fault becomes law in California. "Then they'll wait a year and raise them," he said.

No-Fault, if you didn't already know, requires the insurance firm to pay a limited amount for medical expenses and for lost wages to both parties. This averts much litigation. But either of the parties may sue. Trial lawyers have waxed financially fat in the past by taking auto injury cases on a contingency (percentage basis) fees — usually about 30% of the amount collected.

Neil Morgan, in his column in the Evening Tribune a few days back, noted that ". . . law firms that have grown rich by gambling their time and fees for a contingency share, are hedging the future. One prominent San Diego firm is anticipating a move from downtown to Kearney Mesa and already planning a large client parking area. These attorneys believe that within the next ten years they'll be phased out of current contingency claims law and into high-volume general law on the order of Medicare. They are gambling that government-subsidized law services will soon follow government subsidized medical care."

Hafif says that everyone would be forced to buy wage protection in order to drive an auto—even retired of unemployed persons who get no wages. It would duplicate the medical insurance already carried by most Californians. CTLA sees premium rates rising as much as 50% under the No-Fault plan currently pending in California.

Hafif adds that in the Illinois case where No-Fault was held unconstitutional, 94.6 per cent of all automobile accident victims were for all practical purposes denied access to the courts under Illinois No-Fault . . . that these plans (no-fault) are discriminatory against the poor, the retired, the student, the housewife, children, welfare recipients, and also operate to surcharge the middle-income person for addtional coverage provided."

Hafif also notes that a national insurance agency, in more than 40 states, offered benefits equal to the Illinois No-Fault Law to anyone who carried $2,000 medical-pay on their automobile policy, for approximately $5 a year.

QUEEN HOPEFULS — Candidates for the 1973 Miss Spring Valley Pageant, which has been scheduled for March 21, include Cathy Sparacino, left, Penny Durgin, Carol Lynch, Rosalyn Saputo, Linda Provost, and Cindy D'Ambrosia. The pageant, sponsored by the Spring Valley Rotary Club, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Spring Valley Junior High. Winner of the local contest will compete with 24 other beauty queens for Fairest of the Fair honors and the winner of that pageant with reign over the Southern California Exposition in the summer.

Teacher Layoff Plan Killed By Grove District

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees met Tuesday night and heard a report on certificated staff projections for next year, directed the administration to prepare a contract for temporary use of school facilities by a local church, and tabled action on an experimental computer math program.

Dr. James Justeson, assistant superintendent for education, told trustees Leonard Klee, Bert Cosby and Jim Dorman that there would probably be no need to lay off teachers for next year.

It was earlier determined that, because of decreasing enrollment and cutbacks in programs, as many as five teachers might not be re-hired for next year.

Due to normal attrition -- teachers retiring or requesting year-long leaves — it appears that there will be enough teachers leaving the district to enable the district to cut the certificated staff by seven teachers without denying those who want to be rehired.

In other action, trustees directed superintendent Dr. Robert Sutton to prepare a contract with the Lemon Grove Christian Church through which the church would use two district classrooms on Sundays on a temporary basis.

The concept is permitted if it does not interfere with the district's educational program and if a suitable fee is charged to defray district costs. More details of the arrangement will be available at a future board meeting.

The final item of note involved an experimental computer math program underway at Vista La Mesa School by the class of Joan Wittrock.

Miss Wittrock reported to trustees that she had, through a friend involved with experimental math programs, been contacted as a possible participant in the program.

The computer program enables students to spend about ten minutes per day with the computer, which gives the student problems to answer and after testing, gives the student information on how the student performed and which problems he missed.

The program, which other districts have paid up to $50 per month for, is offered at no cost to the Lemon Grove District.

Trustees delayed action on entering into the contract in order that clarification of the document could be obtained.

The next meeting of the board will be March 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Land Use Designations Get Approval

The preliminary land use designations of the Lemon Grove Community Plan were discussed at last Thursday's meeting of the Lemon Grove Planning Association and most were adopted. Still to be considered is a heavy commercial use category.

The following land use designations were adopted in residential areas: Low — (Up to 5 dwelling units per gross acre); Low PRD — (Up to 5 dwelling units per gross acre); Medium — (Up to 8 dwelling units per gross acre); M — Mobile Home Parks — (Up to 8 dwelling units per gross acre); Medium PRD — (Up to 12 dwelling units per gross acre); High — (Up to 25 dwelling units per gross acre).

Other classifications adopted were a Green Belt (Open space and recreational areas); and Commercial, which includes the downtown district, neighborhood convenience centers, light industrial and medium industrial.

The heavy commercial use had been included in the light industrial category but was deleted and will be discussed further at the next meeting, March 22, at 3 p.m. in the Golden Avenue School auditorium.

Also to be discussed at the meeting are results of a planning commission hearing on the proposed goals for the community, which has been scheduled for tomorrow at 9 a.m. in Room 358 at the County Administration Building.

That hearing was originally scheduled earlier but was postponed by the commission.

G.A.S.P. To Warn Of Smoking Dangers

Based on the premise that smoking is an obnoxious personal habit that should be indulged in privately, a new organization "Group Against Smoking in Public" is launching an all-out campaign to inform the public of the dangers inherently associated with the use of tobacco and how the non-smoker can protect himself both environmentally and through legal resources.

Operating under the appropriate acronym, G-A-S-P, the new group will conduct a series of informational meetings sponsored by Grossmont College's Office of Community Services in Sears Community Room, Parkway Plaza, El Cajon, March 20, 27, April 3 and 10.

Richard W. Morris, El Cajon attorney, will serve as coordinator for the series. He has selected John R. Ford, M.D., who will speak on the "Poisons of Tobacco", for the March 20 session of the series. Ford, in private practice in Southeast San Diego, was recently reappointed by Governor Reagan to the State Board of Education for a four-year term at which time he was re-elected as vice president of the State Board. He is a member of numerous medical and civic organizations and has been honored as a life member of the American Medical Society of Vienna, life member of the NAACP, Golden Year Award of the Urban League, 1967 and 1968; Gentleman of Distinction by the Women's Guild of Temple Emmanu-El of San Diego; an ordained deacon of the Seventh Day Adventist Church and Alumnus of the Year, 1972 by Andrews University.

The March 27 meeting will feature Charles Althafer, M.P.H., project coordinator, Smoking Research, San Diego, speaking to the theme "Behavior Aspects of Smoking" and the screening of the film "Count Down".

The April 3 meeting will have Susan Gmeinder, M.A., smoking cessation specialist with Smoking Research speaking to the theme "Aversion Therapy Techniques and Group Techniques Used to Stop Smoking."

Dr. Ralph Grawunder, professor of health sciences, California State University San Diego, will discuss the "Rights of Non-Smokers" on April 10 to close the series. Other films scheduled for the series will show the surgical removal of cancerous organs caused by smoking. Exhibits of the organs will also be on display.

There is no charge for admission.

Deputies Foil Robbery Attempt

Sheriff's Department deputies on routine patrol foiled an armed robbery of Der Wienerschnitzel hot dog stand at 3751 Fairway dr., Brookside last week.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, deputies on routine patrol investigating a possible prowler in the Brookside area observed a suspect walking on Fairway dr.

As deputies neared, the suspect apparently dropped something into a creek which runs in the area. The suspect also dropped something in the roadway, reports indicated.

Deputies contacted the suspect, retrieved $50 in a canvas bag from the creek, and found a .22 caliber pistol in the roadway. As they contacted the suspect, who identified himself as Chris Pacheco but gave no address, a report of an armed robbery at Der Wienerschnitzel was received via the patrol car radio.

The suspect was arrested and searched, and deputies found more money on his person. The would-be robber reportedly took $200 from the hot dog stand after displaying a .22 caliber, seven-shot revolver.

Duffy Suspends Certificate Of Cab Company

Sheriff John Duffy, following an investigation by the Sheriff's Department, last week suspended a certificate of public convenience and necessity issued to Diamond Cab Company to operate in the unincorporated area of the county.

The suspension, according to a Sheriff's Department spokesman, was the result of an investigation of the company which began last June.

The investigation allegedly revealed that the company, which operates out of National City, has practiced "flat rating" and has overcharged passengers of Mexican descent.

According to the Sheriff's Department, the company allegedly has charged up to double the normal rate while transporting illegal Mexican aliens and Sheriff's Department personnel posing as aliens.

The suspension will mean that the company will not be allowed to pick up customers in Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, or other parts of the county which are unincorporated.

The company will still be permitted, however, to pick up passengers in incorporated areas, even if they are to be dropped off in the unincorporated areas.

Pleasant Evening Planned For Chamber Installation

Beauty, sports, music, good food and prizes.

What more could be offered for an evening of pleasant entertainment?

That's what's scheduled at the annual installation banquet Saturday of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce. It will be at the VFW Hall, 2885 Imperial ave.

Barbara Kotnik, Miss Lemon Grove, will be hostess of the affair, according to Bob Guest, dinner chairman.

Al Couppee, the ol' barnburner of KGTV ch. 10, will tell some delightful stories about sports personalities and his own experiences as an athlete and as the sports director of ch. 10.

Music will be provided by Kristina Marie Yaxley on an organ provided by Southland Music. The food will be catered by Jac's of Lemon Grove built around roast sirloin of beef and ham.

Prizes have been collected by Rita Wells, a tireless chamber worker. These will be distributed as door prizes. She will be assisted by Joyce Foss, banquet co-chairman.

There will also be an installation of new officers. Robert Russell, a past president, will install Dell Lake in a ceremony which he describes as "short and sweet".

Deadline has passed for getting tickets except those which had been reserved but have not been picked up. Those will go to the first persons requesting them by calling chamber secretary Helen Myers at 469-9621.

Section of Freeway Closed Temporarily

The State Division of Highways last week announced that Interstate 8 will be closed to traffic intermittently between Grossmont Center dr. and Fletcher Parkway in La Mesa from 11 p.m. to 6 a.m. weekdays, through March 31.

Jacob Dekema, district engineer, said that the temporary closure is necessary to permit the removal of falsework from the new Baltimore dr. bridge over Interstate 8.

Westbound motorists will be detoured via Grossmont Center drive and Fletcher Parkway. The Spring st. off-ramp will be closed to westbound traffic. Eastbound traffic will be detoured via Fletcher Parkway and Jackson dr.

What's in a Name?

Now it's official.

What was once known as the Helix Irrigation District has become the Helix Water District.

The reason for the change is obvious. The ranches of yesterday that required irrigation have become lots covered by homes and patios.

State Legislature last session granted agencies operating under the Irrigation District Act permission to make the name change.

Gas Station Robbed

The Arco service station at 3775 Massachusetts ave., Lemon Grove, was the victim of an armed robbery last week, as a white male wearing light colored denim trousers and a striped t-shirt escaped on foot with about $50 in cash.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the suspect entered the station on foot at about 6:20 p.m., displayed an automatic pistol, and asked for money.

After getting the cash, the suspect told the attendant "Have a nice evening" and ran east on Waite dr.

The suspect was described as a white male, about 20 years old, standing about 5-10 to six feet, weighing about 160 pounds. He had wavy, medium length light brown hair. The t-shirt had horizontal stripes.

Over An Inch Of Rain Falls

More than an inch of rain has fallen from Lemon Grove and Spring Valley skies in the last week, leaving mud, slick streets and green fields.

Although no damage was reported, blue skies have been few and far between in the past two weeks, as .60 of an inch fell last week and 1.25 inches fell this week, bringing the season's total to 14.42 inches.

The latest storm dropped .83 of an inch.

Last year's total by this date was a mere 4.49 inches.

Mail Bag

Dear Editor:

I know you are well informed on the usual government issues, but I especially want you to know how important I think the new Forest Practice Act — SB 5 proposed by Sen. John A. Nejedly of Contra Costa County, and adopted recently by the State Senate — truly is to all the peoples of California.

We hear so much these days about "the state" and the "peoples of the state," but remember that your readers are "the state" — and that it is up to them to be informed, and up to us to help them, on all government issues.

SB 5 considers all of the forest resources — fish, wildlife, and recreational values, as well as timber itself — in a most constructive and balanced manner. We, in the Department of Conservation, endorse it en toto, knowing full well that we are the agency of "the people" who will have to enforce its regulations, which add up to even stricter controls for the logging industry than our previous very tough ones.

I would like to let everyone know how deeply I value the forest lands of California, and how we all must preserve and also use properly, all of these lands under our protection.

Therefore, I urge your readers to help get behind this bill by- first of all writing their Assemblyman, and next by supporting this bill within any of their local organizations.

Sincerely,
Ray B. Hunter,
Director
Dept of Conservation

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

"Yo" means "I." This is the first person pronoun in Spanish and may be used to start a sentence like "Yo soy feliz." (I am happy) or "Yo estoy aqui." (I am here).

"Yo" may also appear with regular verbs that end in "o," as seen in "lavo," "tomo," "bebo," and "deseo." They may also appear in complete phrases like "Yo lavo los platos." (I wash the plates.), "Yo tomo clases en la escuela." (I take classes in the school.), "Yo bebo leche en la cena." (I drink milk at dinner.), and "Yo deseo eso." (I want that.).

"El" means "he" and "ella" means "she." These two pronouns use the same form of the verb as appears with the pronoun "usted." This becomes evident in the phrases "El lava su ropa." (He washes his clothes.), "Ella toma aspirina para dolor de cazeza." (She takes aspirin for her headache.), "El bebe te todos los dias." (He drinks tea every day.), and "Ella desea estudiar en la noche." (She wants to study at night.).

"Ellos" means "they" for masculine pronouns and "Ellas" means "they" for feminine pronouns. Examples of these are seen in the expressions "Ellos lavan el coche." (They wash the car.), "Ellas no beben vino." (They do not drink wine.), and "Ellos toman su tiempo en comer." (They take their time in eating.).

"Ustedes" is the plural form of "you." This is used in expressions like "Ustedes beben chocolate en la tarde." (You all drink chocolate in the afternoon.) and "Ustedes desean ir a la escuela todo el dia." (You all want to go to school all day.).

Sentences listed below demonstrate the use of pronouns. The phonetic guide will assist you in pronunciation. The automated telephone recording will model the phrases (272-2762).

Unit Award Program Starts For Scouts

Outstanding scout troops and cub scout packs in the San Diego County Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be recognized annually during the next four years for quality unit programs, Scout Commissioner James Orsborn announced.

The National Boypower Unit Award will be presented as special recognition to units that meet minimum quality program requirements, Orsborn explained. The award program, a part of Boypower '76, the long-range plan of the Boy Scouts of America, is based on each of 4 years from April 1 to March 31.

Similar awards will also be available for explorer posts.

The award will be received by a cub scout pack that earns the National Summertime Pack Award; achieves its advancement goal; participates in two or more district or council activities; reregisters on time; and conducts a quarterly uniform review.

Requirements for a scout troop are 10 days and nights of camping including a long-term camp of 6 consecutive days; achieving its goal for progress awards; participation in two or more district or council activities; registration on time; quarterly uniform review; and completion of cornerstone training by the scoutmaster.

Boypower '76, which was launched in 1969, calls for the Boy Scouts of America to serve by 1976 a representative one-third of boys of all races, colors, creeds, and economic status, Orsborn said.

There is also an emphasis on providing a program relevant to the needs and concerns of youth and to maintain a high level of quality for BSA programs, he said.

ANNUAL SHOW — Among over 100 varieties of orchids to be displayed at the 27th annual San Diego Orchid Show tomorrow, Saturday, and Sunday in Balboa Park is this delicate cattleya, a hybrid type raised by Rex Foster, of Spring Valley. Foster is director of the show.

Annual Orchid Show To Open Friday Night

Over 75,000 orchid blooms will be on display tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. when the 27th annual Orchid Show opens in the Conference Building in Balboa Park.

Proceeds from opening night are donated to the San Diego Botanical Society to help finance the furnishing of a new flower building.

The show will continue all day Saturday and Sunday and is sponsored by the San Diego County Orchid Society. Rex Foster, show director, said that the show theme, 'Magic Moments with Orchids', will include plants valued at over $350,000. Trophies and cash awards will be presented to winning entries.

Participation is open to amateurs, and professional growers as well as the beginner who is indulging in his first experience as an orchid grower.

Orchids span a range of some 25,000 varieties — some of them very rare. Over 100 of the varieties will be shown, including the delicate Cattleya which must be grown in controlled temperature greenhouses, and the more hardy Cymbidium which prefers a filtered shade location in the outdoor garden.

Orchid culture workshops will be held Saturday and Sunday, 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., open to anyone interested in growing orchids. Corsage making classes will also be held.

Horses to Show For Charity

Five separate shows, each completely different, have been planned for the two-day event. Over 65 classes, including halter, riding, driving, English and Western have been included in the program.

Show tickets are $1-$2.50 and will be on sale at all 38 county-wide branches of Security Pacific Bank. Ticket sales will benefit the many world-wide programs of Project Concern, a San Diego-based operation which currently medically aids over one-half million people in five countries, with Bali and Guatemala.

Auxiliary Sets Meeting

The Edgemoor Geriatric Hospital Auxiliary will hold a general meeting and luncheon March 19, at 11:30 a.m. in the Community Room at Sears, 575 Fletcher Parkway, El Cajon.

An installation dinner will be April 11, at 7 p.m. in the hospital dining room. All members of the Auxiliary, their husbands or wives, are invited to attend.

Plane Crash Claims Life Of Ed Parrish

An airplane crash in North Carolina last Thursday claimed the life of a Spring Valley man, along with the lives of ten other members of the U. S. Army's Golden Knights parachute team.

Dying in the crash was Edward Milton Parrish, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Parrish, of 729 Osage dr., Spring Valley.

Parrish, who was born in El Paso, Texas, graduated from Mt. Miguel High School in 1965, attended Grossmont College and later graduated from San Diego City College.

He made his first parachute jump at the age of 17 while still in high school from a plane with the San Diego School of Parachuting, where he later became an instructor.

That first jump started him on a career in aeronautics and parachuting that included getting a private pilot's rating, a certification as an aircraft mechanic, and a license as a parachute rigger.

He went on to become a lab technician for Gulf General Atomic before joining the Golden Knights — the Army's top 18 parachute stunt artists.

Parrish, who made nearly 2,000 jumps in a nine-year career, also held the Gold Free-Fall Badge for jumpers accumulating over 12 hours of free-fall time. Most Golden Knights team members have about 1,000 jumps to their credit.

Approximately three hundred heads of business firms, institutions and employee contribution clubs received a copy of the booklet in the mail along with a letter from golfer Gene Littler, 1973 C.H.A.D. campaign chairman.

Monarch Rally Tops Spartans

The Monte Vista High School team evened its pre-season record at 2-2 Friday afternoon by handing the visiting Chula Vista Spartans an 8-0 defeat.

The lopsided game didn't look that way in the beginning, as Monte Vista batters couldn't figure out Chula Vista twirler Bob Makepeace, who shut the home team out for the first five innings on just one hit — a blooping double by shortstop Ken Margulis.

Chula Vista, meanwhile was having a pretty good day at the plate, as Monte Vista pitcher Dave Munoz gave up a pair of hits in each of the second and third innings, but got out unscathed as double plays rescued him.

The Chula Vistans were confident as the sixth inning got underway, but Makepeace committed an unforgiveable crime among pitchers: he walked his opposing pitcher to open the inning.

Concern mounted when an error put two men on base for the Monarchy. Five straight singles and another walk brought home four runs and the bases were still loaded when Monte Vista rightfielder Rick Baker came to bat.

Baker promptly blasted a grand slam over the centerfield fence to top off the rally. Munoz held Chula Vista scoreless in the top of the seventh to ice the victory.

Housing Starts Increase

New housing starts in California increased to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 248,000 in January, Bank of America's economics department announced.

Building permits of over 21,000 in January were up from the same month last year, which along with those permits issued in recent months, should insure a relatively high rate of new starts during the first half of 1973, the bank's economics forecast.

However, the economists noted that a larger proportion of January permits were for apartment projects, for which there is a longer delay between the issuance of a permit and the start of construction.

DOUBLE WINNER — Rick Debus, Mt. Miguel High School's sensational miler, took home a pair of first place awards last week after the National City Jaycees Relays at Sweetwater High School. Debus anchored Mt. Miguels distance medley team enroute to first place and a new school record and later returned to the track to win the mile, stopping the watches in 4:27.8, despite a muddy track and the strain of running two races. Monte Vista took second place in both events and had enough points in other areas to edge Mt. Miguel in the team totals, 31-27.

Program Set for Opening Of Del Mar Race Season

DEL MAR — Presentation of the 34th Del Mar Handicap will be on an invitational basis for the 1973 summer season, opening July 25, it was announced by Thomas M. Hamilton, president of the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club.

The $100,000 added fixture again will be run at a mile and three eighths on the infield turf course. Under the new conditions Director of Racing Louis H. Eilken and Racing Secretary Peter W. Tunney will be able to draw the best possible field of handicap stars in training for the Sept. 8 renewal.

Del Mar's stakes program comprises 21 added money features carrying $545,000 in value. There are ample opportunities for all divisions. In addition to the $100,000 handicap, older horses will have seven other stakes chances, three of them exclusively for fillies and mares.

Last season, it will be recalled, the Del Mar 'Cap was run in two divisions with the California-bred mare, Hill Circus, and the eastern invader, Chrisaway, dividing honors.

Its filly counterpart, the $85,000 gross Debutante, will be presented for the 23rd time as the headline attraction on Labor Day, Sept. 3. Excitement Spices National City Relays

Monte Vista and Mt. Miguel track teams were well-represented at the 19th annual National City Jaycee Relays last Saturday at Sweetwater High School.

The two local schools went head-to-head in the large school division, with Monte Vista compiling 31 points for fifth place and Mount Miguel 27 points for seventh place.

Outstanding performances included two exciting races in which the local schools took the top two positions. In the distance medley relay, Mt. Miguel's team of Mike Cormier, Frank Demling, Joe Badger, and Rick Debus set a new school record enroute to first place, just 3.6 seconds ahead of Monte Vista.

Anchor man Rick Debus came back a few minutes later to claim first place in the mile run, again just edging a Monte Vista runner, Mike McGrath, who also ran on the Monte Vista relay team. Debus clocked 4:27.8 for the mile, with McGrath at 4:29.4.

Mt. Miguel's sprint medley relay team claimed a fourth place while Monte Vista failed to place. Mt. Miguel's Mark Richardson claimed fourth place in the 120-yard high hurdles while Monte Vista's Dave Witthoff was fifth.

Ram's Chuck Knox Here For Gold Helmet Clinic

New Los Angeles Ram head football cach Chuck Knox will be the featured speaker at the First Annual Golden Helmet Football Clinic, sponsored by the University of San Diego football department and Coca-Cola Bottling Co., March 17 and 18.

The two-day affair is to be held at the Royal Inn and Convention Center at the Wharf.

Theme of the clinic is "Growth Into Greatness," and plans are to annually have speakers who have initiated football programs or have taken a program from the ground floor and either built or are building it into a winner.

"We want a clinic that doesn't have the traditional 'X' and 'O' formula," said USD head coach Andy Vinci. "We find that the most outstanding coaching records are consistently achieved by men who put more emphasis on the organization and emotional part of the game."

Included in the clinic will be demonstrations of techniques by San Diego Charger players Chuck Detwiler and Terry Owens.

USD, devoid of intercollegiate football since 1961, reinstated the grid sport this past season and posted a 6-3-1 record. The Toreros, operating without scholarship or other financial assistance from the University, finished tenth nationally in college division rushing defense statistics and had the best won-lost mark of all West Coast college independents.

Scheduled in LeBaron's Regency Room, The Dinner provides an ideal opportunity to meet the fighters and their colorful followers as well as to lend assistance to a charitable concern.

Machine Gets 2-Game Edge

The Bouncing Bubbles upset the second place Green Stringbeans, while the first place Green Machine fought off a valiant effort by the Scarecrows, enabling the Macnine to take a two-game lead in the Spring Valley Recreation Department's girls' basketball league.

The Green Stringbeans trailed the Machine by only half a game going into the last round of action, but an upset by the Bubbles 26-14, dipped the Beans into a second place tie with the Crows, who dropped a tough 29-27 affair to the Machine later to drop back out of the tie.

Norton-Ali Card Completed Lewis-Vasquez in Semi-Main

"The Card" for "The Fight" has been assembled — and it looks pretty good.

"The Fight" is a heavyweight 12-rounder between challenger Kenny Norton of San Diego and Muhammad Ali, former heavyweight champ. It is San Diego's biggest fight. It will get world teevee coverage but it will be blacked out in Southern California.

The fight will be in San Diego in the Sports Arena on Saturday, March 31 starting at 1:30 p.m.

Ticket sales are approaching $100,000 in a house that could generate $450,000 if completely sold out. Tickets are scaled $10-$15-$25-$50-$100 with the $10 and $100 tickets going fast, according to John D. Greensmith, administrative assistant to the fight's promoter, Lee Fruin. All seats are reserved. Even the $10 ones.

"The Card", in addition to Norton-Ali is classy, too. A semi-main pits two top welterweights against each other in a 10-rounder. Hedgemon Lewis, ranked world's no. 1 contender against Ruben Vasquez, Mexico's no. 1 contender.

A Special Event is a 10-round featherweight battle between Art Hafey, Nova Scotia's champ against Valente Vera, Tijuana, Ring Magazine's April Prospect of the Month.

Art's brother, Lawrence Hafey, also of Nova Scotia with a 15-3 welterweight record, takes on Gonzalo Rodriguez, Tijuana, in a six-round welterweight scrap. Rodriguez has a 10-2-2 record.

Mats' Bats Blast Barons

Mt. Miguel High School's baseball team, despite sloppy field conditions and some sloppy fielding, outlasted Bonita Vista, 8-6, last Friday afternoon.

The victory, the first of the young season for Mt. Miguel, came on the heavy bats of Doug Nowlen, Tim Gallagher and Paul Schneider.

Nowlen knocked in five of Mt. Miguel's runs with four hits, while Gallagher ripped three hits including a triple and Schneider belted a two-run double.

Things weren't looking too bright for Mt. Miguel as the game got underway, as starting pitcher Steve Long was ripped for three unearned runs in the first two innings.

Shortstop Phil Williamson took over the mound duties in the third frame and had better luck, although he was tagged for three more runs over the last five innings, including the game's only earned run for the Barons.

Mt. Miguel bats came alive in the third inning as Gallagher started a four-run rally with a single to help the Matadors take the lead for good.

Mt. Miguel was rained out Monday. The league season gets underway Tuesday as the Matadors travel to Grossmont.

Parapsychology Is Forum Of Foothills Talk

One of the world's leading authorities on parapsychology, Dr. Arthur Hastings, will be the third speaker in the 1973 Forum of the Foothills lecture series Sunday evenings

Other speakers in the series are consumer crusader Ralph Nader, March 26; and Grace Thorpe, Indian rights leader and daughter of the legendary athlete Jim Thorpe, April 8.

Hastings, director of the Parapsychology Research Group of Pala Alto and a professor in the Stanford University Department of Speech and Drama, will speak at 7:30 p.m. in the Grossmont College gymnasium. A question and answer period will follow the lecture.

As a parapsychologist, Dr. Hastings has conducted numerous investigations of poltergeist phenomena, seances, telepathy, clairvoyance and psychokinesis.

Tickets for individual lectures are not available this year, but season tickets still may be purchased at the door for $12 to admit an entire family to the remaining three lectures and $6 for an individual. Additional information about the series may be obtained by calling 291-9293.

Forum of the Foothills chairman Gordon Austin said the Forum is a non-profit organization sponsored by subscriptions, which are used to pay the speakers.

S.V. Rotary, 'Runners And Bruins Champs

The final official standings in the Spring Valley Recreation Department basketball league were released last week and most valuable players in each division were named.

In the A division, Spring Valley Rotary claimed the pennant with a 14-1 record, two games better than second place S.V. Kiwanis at 12-3. Coastal Rigging was the only other team with a record of over .500, establishing a 10-5 mark.

Most valuable player in the A division was Arturo Spaan of the championship team, who compiled a 15.3 points-per-game average on the season to nose out teammate Neal Luscomb, who had a 15.1 average.

In the B division, the Roadrunners, after winning 10 straight games to remain undefeated on the year, claimed the title by three games over the second place Knicks who had a 7-3 record. In third place were the Celtics at 6-4, while the Hawks took fourth at 5-5.

B division player of the year was Steve Smith of the 'Runners, who shamed all competitors with a 19.0 points per game average while leading his team to the title.

In the C division, the Bruins claimed the flag with a 9-1 mark, three games ahead of the second place Warriors at 6-4. The Green Gremlins and the Conquistadors tied for third place, each with 5-5 records.

Although Allen Cheatham claimed the highest scoring mark with a 16.5 average for the Green Gremlins, Daryl Keogh, of the first place Bruins took the most valuable player honors.

The National Transportation Safety Board said 190 persons died in U. S. airline accidents last year as compared to 203 in 1971.

East County Crew Honored

San Diego Gas & Electric Company has honored 278 employees of its eastern operations department for completing two years and more than a million man-hours of work without a lost-time accident.

Walter A. Zitlau, company president, and M. R. Engler, senior vice president, commended the employees for an outstanding record. Zitlau urged the group to continue to make safety a primary consideration in their work.

D. W. Gilman, vice president-operations services, presented a plaque to the district in recognition of the safety achievement. It was accepted by J. H. Morse, district superintendent, who commended the employees for their dedicated individual and group efforts to make safety a work habit.

SEEKS ADVANCEMENT — Supervisor Bill Craven (5th Dist.) of Oceanside, siad this week that he will seek State Senator John Stull's 80th District Assembly seat. The District represents Northern San Diego County but includes parts of Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. It includes much of the area he has been serving as supervisor. Craven, 50, describes himself as a moderate Republican and that his prime goal in the Assembly would be tax relief and to ease the burden on senior citizens.

$4.5 Million Space Theatre Provides Realism and Thrills

by Max Goodwin

It's near impossible to get in the Reuben H. Fleet Space Theatre because of its limited seating and immense popularity, but when you do you'll be amply rewarded.

The $4.5 million theatre is at the east end of El Prado in Balboa Park and seats 320 people.

But the view you get is something else. The screen wraps around the viewer well beyond his peripheral and overhead vision. The projection quality is so good that the scenes appear to be real and the wrap-around pulls viewers into the activity.

Two films are screened. The entire program lasts some 45 minutes. The first is a space picture which gives the eerie feeling of actually being in space. Parts of it are so spectacular that the audience applauds. A near-up view of Jupiter and a close up of a space station provides excitement.

Another film, having nothing to do with science, is exciting but from another direction. It shows scenes on the garden isle of Kauai in Hawaii. Most shots were taken from a helicopter which flew close to the ocean, the lush growth of hilltops and deep into a volcanic crater. It is not possible to view the film without holding to your seat due to fear of falling or crashing. Roger Tilton, filmed the feature.

There are 71 audio speakers in the compact theatre — many of them under the viewers' seats. In a sylvan setting of Hawaiian rainforest growth, noise of trickling water and song of the birds comes from various directions. It's intriguing. These speakers are also used when the spacecraft lifted off for Jupiter with a blast off noise that nearly lifts patrons from their seats.

Admission to the theatre is $2 weekends and evenings; $1.75 weekdays. Those under 18 pay 50 cents less.

Shows start at 2:30 weekdays and 10:30 a.m. weekends.

Lyons Wants Seat On 'Active' College Board

Joseph M. Lyons, 27, of 228 Blanchard rd., El Cajon, who asks the question "Are our trustees able to devote the necessary time to be effective?", is a candidate for the Grossmont College District Board of Governors.

Lyons, who is married and the father of one child, is employed with University Hospital as a research associate working in kidney disorder research. He graduated from Pt. Loma High School and received his Masters Degree in microbiology from San Diego State.

The candidate, who is credentialed to teach at the community college level, indicated that the most needed change for the college would involve an integrated educational policy with faculty, students, and the community establishing district policies.

In the past, the college board has been too passive rather than taking an active part in the decision making process, Lyons said, indicating that Trustees, as representatives of the citizens in the district, should initiate more programs and policies rather than relying heavily on the administration.

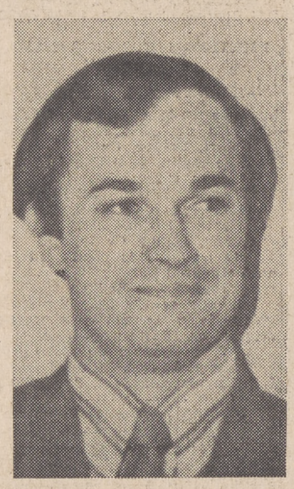
Lyons, who said that his background has enabled him to get active insight into the community college experience, sees the role of the community college as supplying an opportunity to individuals who wish to become involved in a higher educational experience.

Although he favors active participation in the community by the college, the candidate said that such participation should be geared so that it would not sacrifice educational programs.

He indicated that he is against the use of community college funds, however, derived, for support of a proposed auditorium.

A proposal has been made that the college district share expenses for construction and maintenance of an auditorium with the city of El Cajon. The college, under the proposal, would spend money derived by a community service tax which has been levied for several years.

Lyons favors using the community service tax money to develop on-campus activities which involve the community as well as enrichment-type classes and programs.



Lyons

By using that money for programs which are currently being funded by the regular tax, there would be more money left out of the regular tax to expand scholastic classes and programs, he explained.

He is in favor, also, of the prompt construction of the proposed second campus which is to be built in Spring Valley. He sees the project as one which will be necessary even if enrollment drops in the next few years.

Cranston Tells Of Jokes About Postal Service

One telling index to the utter failure of a product or an endeavor is the number of jokes it generates, Senator Alan Cranston (D., Calif.) told a Senate Committee.

"First there were Edsel jokes. These gave way to TFX and F-111 jokes. Now Postal Service jokes have become a national pasttime," Cranston said in testimony before the Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

"While the fighting in Vietnam was going on in full fury, for example, people were saying: 'Let's turn the war over to the Postal Corporation: They may not end it, but they'll sure slow it down!'" Cranston said. "Others said: 'Don't do that, they'll only lose!'"

"Now the line is: 'Smash the Mafia — mail it parcel post!' And they tell this story about the time former Postmaster General Winton Blount sat in on a brainstorming session on the problems of mail delivery:

"'I've been listening patiently now for three hours,' Blount finally said in exasperation, 'and all I want is a simple answer to a simple question: If it is neither snow nor rain not heat nor gloom of night that is holding up the mail, then just what the hell is the trouble?'"

"The week's best effort," Cranston continued, "has to go to Washington Star-News reporter Miriam Ottenberg who had a suggestion for next year's Christmas stamp. It could say, 'O Lord, Deliver Me.'"

Testifying on the decline of dependable mail service, Cranston said more than 5,000 Californians have written him in the past year to complain about the mail service.

EASY TO REACH — Servicing the entire populace of San Diego County, the Office of Senior Citizens Affairs is on the busiest bus line in San Diego for the convenience of retired persons using the office. Director Richard Thomson, of Lemon Grove, urges all elderly persons with problems to call his office for advice or assistance. His staff maintians a referral service while compiling data for services needed for the aged. Senior citizens services may be reached by calling 235-6432.

SD County Office Coordinates Services For Senior Citizens

Senior citizens in San Diego County will not be forgotten — Rich Thomson and his staff at the County Office of Senior Citizens Affairs will see to that.

Unfortunatey, Thomson said, many of the area's oldsters are not yet aware of his office or the work it performs to make life easier for those in their retirement years.

The office, in the heart of San Diego at 1955 Fourth ave., was chosen for its location on the city's busiest bus line; giving accessability to those unable to drive.

The office is now in its second year of operation after being established by the board of supervisors to fill a vital need.

Thomson, of 1805 Primera, Lemon Grove, is director of Senior Citizens Affairs. He said that the purpose of the office is to:

Review services being offered the elderly in San Diego County and coordinate these services as needed to effect a more comprehensive delivery method of them;

Gather statistical data on existing programs, needs, and services for the aged;

Plan for and develop programs to meet needs not now being met;

Compile an information and referral service available to all persons in the county;

Provide appropriate services to other agencies and the general public when requested; and

Perform other reporting, evaluative, and consultive services as required by the Board of Supervisors, the County Administrator, and the Human Resources Administrator of the County.

But like an iceberg, this list of purposes is only the surface of a mass of poignant problems faced every day by the elderly, he said.

"Among the aged, especially those isolated from others, every problem becomes exaggerated," Thomson said.

Besides the ever-present problem of income and inflation, housing and trnasportation are pressing issues, according to Thomson.

He said the over-65 population is increasing twice as fast as the under-65 population, bringing on a "real crisis in a choice of life-style systems."

"We like to prevent institutionalism as much as possible," Thomson continued, "because it tends to force a person to surrender authority over his life.

"A choice is needed of good, adequate, low-cost housing — something to bridge the gap between independent living, moving in with relatives, and becoming institutionalized."

Thomson concedes that today's household is geared primarily for the nuclear family — a man, wife, and their children — with neither room in the home nor in the family budget for care for the older generation.

"And, too," continued Thomson, "when an older person moves in with a son or daughter, they encounter a problem of role reversal. It's not their house, but they still feel the need to exert some authority over their own life."

Thomson is enthusiastic about some of the current programs of his office. They include a senior employment program, an area planning project, and cooperation with other county agencies in retired senior citizen volunteer programs.

A $57,452 grant to plan a countywide system of services forfor senior citizens has been received by the county.

The grant was made by the California Commission on Aging after the Board of Supervisors made the request December 12, 1972.

The purpose is to coordinate rather than operate all the many programs now being carried out by such agencies as the county, the City of San Diego, other cities, UCS, and a number of other private agencies, according to Thomson.

The grant, which will be administered by Thomson, will fund the area planning project through the end of the year.

Off-Broadway to Re-open With Kay Ballard – 'Gypsy'

With a nostalgic glance into its colorful past, the Off Broadway Theatre will premiere its first Wortman-Hartzog production Wednesday, March 28 with Kay Ballard starring in the musical comedy. "Gypsy", which will continue through Sunday, April 12.

The announcement was made by Don Wortman and Tom Hartzog, the new producers and managers for the Off Broadway.

An exciting spring-summer season will follow with at least two musicals out of every four productions being presented, depending on the general audience support.

An original comedy, "Under Papa's Picture," with Eve Arden will open a pre-Broadway tryout in San Diego May 1-27, followed by the musical, "Lenny," a recent hit on Broadway and in Los Angeles. "Lenny" is based on the life story of Lenny Bruce.

To continue the policy of up-grading shows and stars and presenting more musicals, the new producers also announced the necessity of making a moderate increase in ticket prices. The new structure will be the same for each production.

Wortman added that star's salaries were, in some instances, three times higher than what was paid by the previous management. In addition, musicals are known to cost four times what a regular play's expenses would run.

The new ticket scale, up $1.25, is $6.75 and $5.75 on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday evenings, $7.75 and $6.75 on Friday and Saturday nights, and $6 and $5 on Saturday and Sunday matinees.

Curtain time will remain 8:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 7:30 p.m. on Sundays. Matinees will be 2 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. The box office will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. except Mondays when it will be open from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

For reservations, call 235-6535.

Sarasota, Fla. has 35 miles of beaches, all open to the public.
